

Movies, explained

Movies, explained

or, what makes for good film?

RESTRICTED

UNDER 17 REQUIRES ACCOMPANYING PARENT OR ADULT GUARDIAN

2017

2016

Rank	Title	Distributor	Worldwide gross
1	Captain America: Civil War	Disney	$1,153,304,495
2	Rogue One		$1,056,055,579
3	Finding Dory		$1,028,570,889
4	Zootopia		$1,023,784,195
5	The Jungle Book		$966,550,600
6	The Secret Life of Pets	Universal	$875,457,937
7	Batman v Superman: Dawn of Justice	Warner Bros.	$873,260,194
8	Fantastic Beasts and Where to Find Them		$814,037,575
9	Deadpool	20th Century Fox	$783,112,979
10	Suicide Squad	Warner Bros.	$745,600,054

2016

BY ERIC EISENBERG | 1 YEAR AGO | 0 COMMENTS

It was back in January that it was reported that movie ticket prices that people are the main reason why people are hesitant about seeing a film at their local theater. Well, that complaint hasn't stopped cinemas from continuing to raise their prices, as a new report has confirmed that the cost of a ticket has once again reached an all-time high.

Deadline has received a new report from the National Association of Theater Owners, and the numbers show that ticket prices have actually increased 3.4 percent since they last reached a record high at the start of 2015. In the United States, the average pass will cost a movie-goer $8.61 - which is over two dollars more than the average price back in 2005.

Looking at the numbers, it's not hard to see why some sections of the movie-going public are hesitant to go out for a night at the cinema. If a family of four is going out to see a film, they're spending about $35 on tickets alone. Adding in the additional costs of parking, dinner, and snacks, and the whole thing makes you feel like somebody drilled a hole in your pocket.

2016

Movie Ticket Prices Hit Record High

Brent Lang
Senior Film and Media Editor
@BrentATLang

JULY 18, 2016 | 01:00PM PT

It's more expensive to go to the movies than ever before.

Average ticket prices hit a new high during the second quarter of 2016, topping out at $8.73, according to the National Association of Theatre Owners, an exhibition lobbying firm. That trumps the previous record of $8.70, a pinnacle that the industry reached in the final fiscal quarter of 2015. The culprit is likely more premium format, IMAX and 3D screenings for recent hits such as "Captain America: Civil War" and "Finding Dory." These showings often carry surcharges.

The latest numbers also represent a 1.7% hike from the first quarter average of $8.58 a ticket, as well as a 1.4% increase from the year-ago average of $8.61. Of course, most moviegoers in major

By SHANNON LUIBRAND / CBS NEWS / July 19, 2016, 11:38 PM

Movie ticket prices in U.S. hit all-time high

Movie ticket prices in the United States have reached an all-time high, according to new data released by the National Association of Theatre Owners (NATO).

The price of a movie ticket went up 3 percent last year from $8.17 in 2014 to $8.43 in 2015.

NATO found that in 2015, 3D box office movies were up 20 percent from 2014, and comprised of 15 percent of total box office sales. The rise in average prices could be partly attributed to 3D movies.

ENTERTAINMENT

October 3, 2016 11:51 am

Updated: October 3, 2016 5:12 pm

Cineplex raising ticket prices: Your next trip to the movies may be more expensive

By Leslie Young

National Online Journalist, Investigative Global News

Movie ticket prices just went up at some Cineplex theatres across Canada in response to increased operating costs, including a higher minimum wage, according to the theatre company.

US cinema ticket prices reach record high

Average prices hit $8.73 in the second quarter of the year, a 1.4% year-on-year rise.

Figures released by the National Association of Theatre Owners on Friday show that cinema ticket prices in the US have reached an all-time high.

The average ticket now costs $8.73, up from $8.58 during the first quarter, a 1.4% year-on-year rise. The numbers represent an average across all screen sizes and times; this tends to rise as the family and blockbuster season begins.

The year actually began down on the numbers for 2015, which hit a record high in the fourth quarter, as Star Wars: The Force Awakens screened.

What makes a movie good... really?

PRE-PRODUCTION

screenwriting

art direction

production design

wardrobe design

set design

PRODUCTION

lighting

cinematography

acting

directing

POST-PRODUCTION

editing

visual effects

scoring

music design

sound design

grading/colouring

graphic design

PRE-PRODUCTION

screenwriting

art direction

production design

wardrobe design

set design

PRODUCTION

lighting

cinematography

acting

directing

POST-PRODUCTION

editing

visual effects

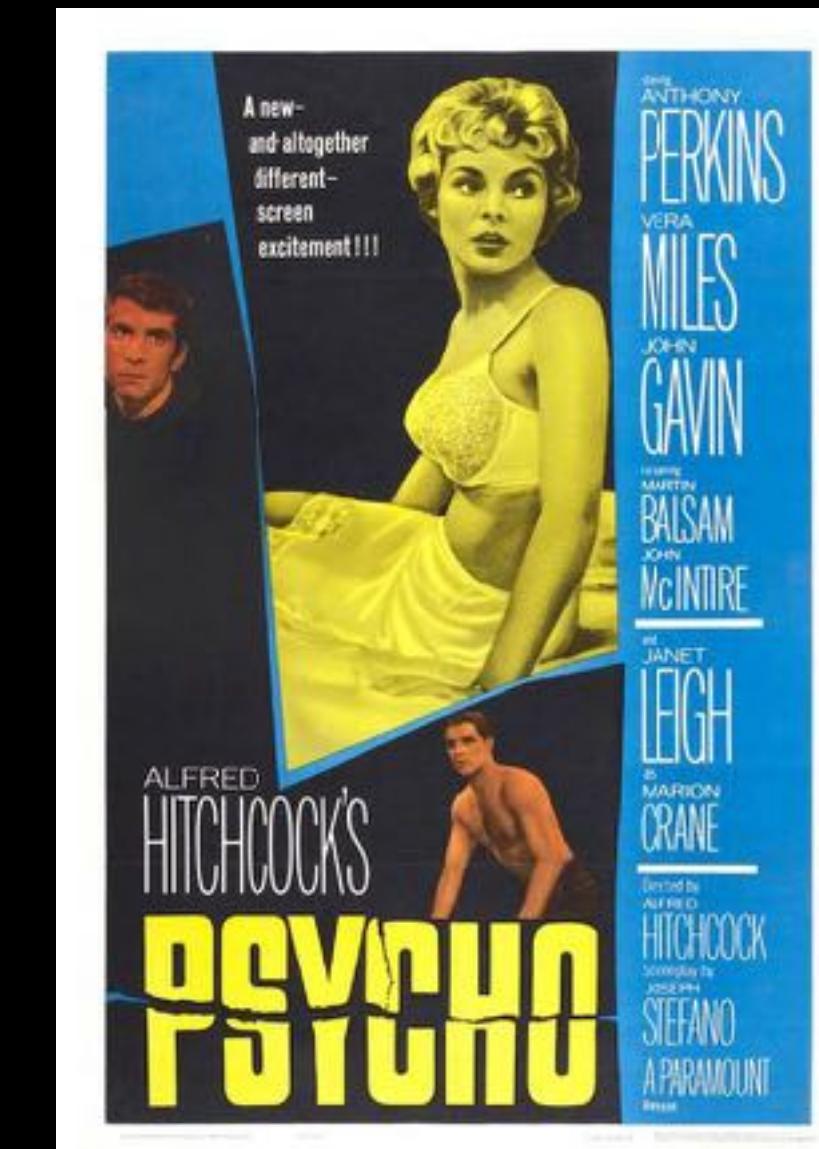

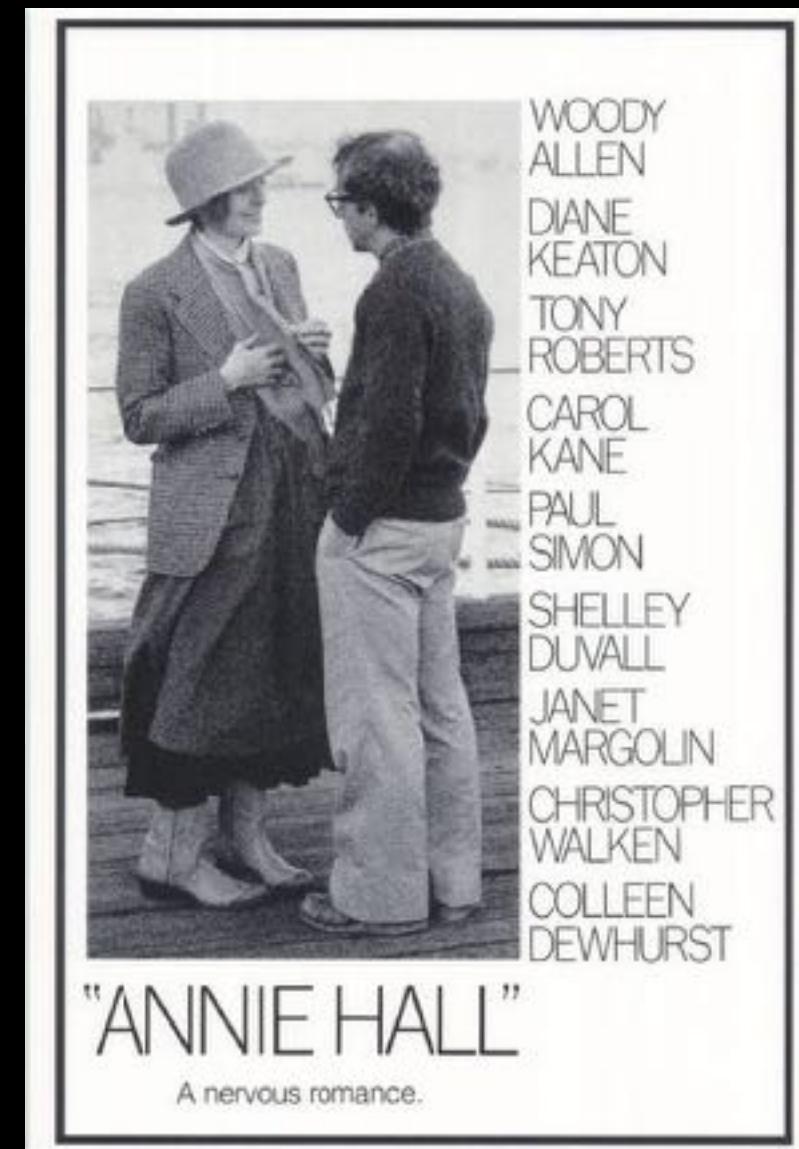

scoring

music design

sound design

grading/colouring

graphic design

SPOILERS AHEAD

Screenwriting

or, how are characters' stories being told?

The Social Network 2010

In Bruges 2008

LOGAN

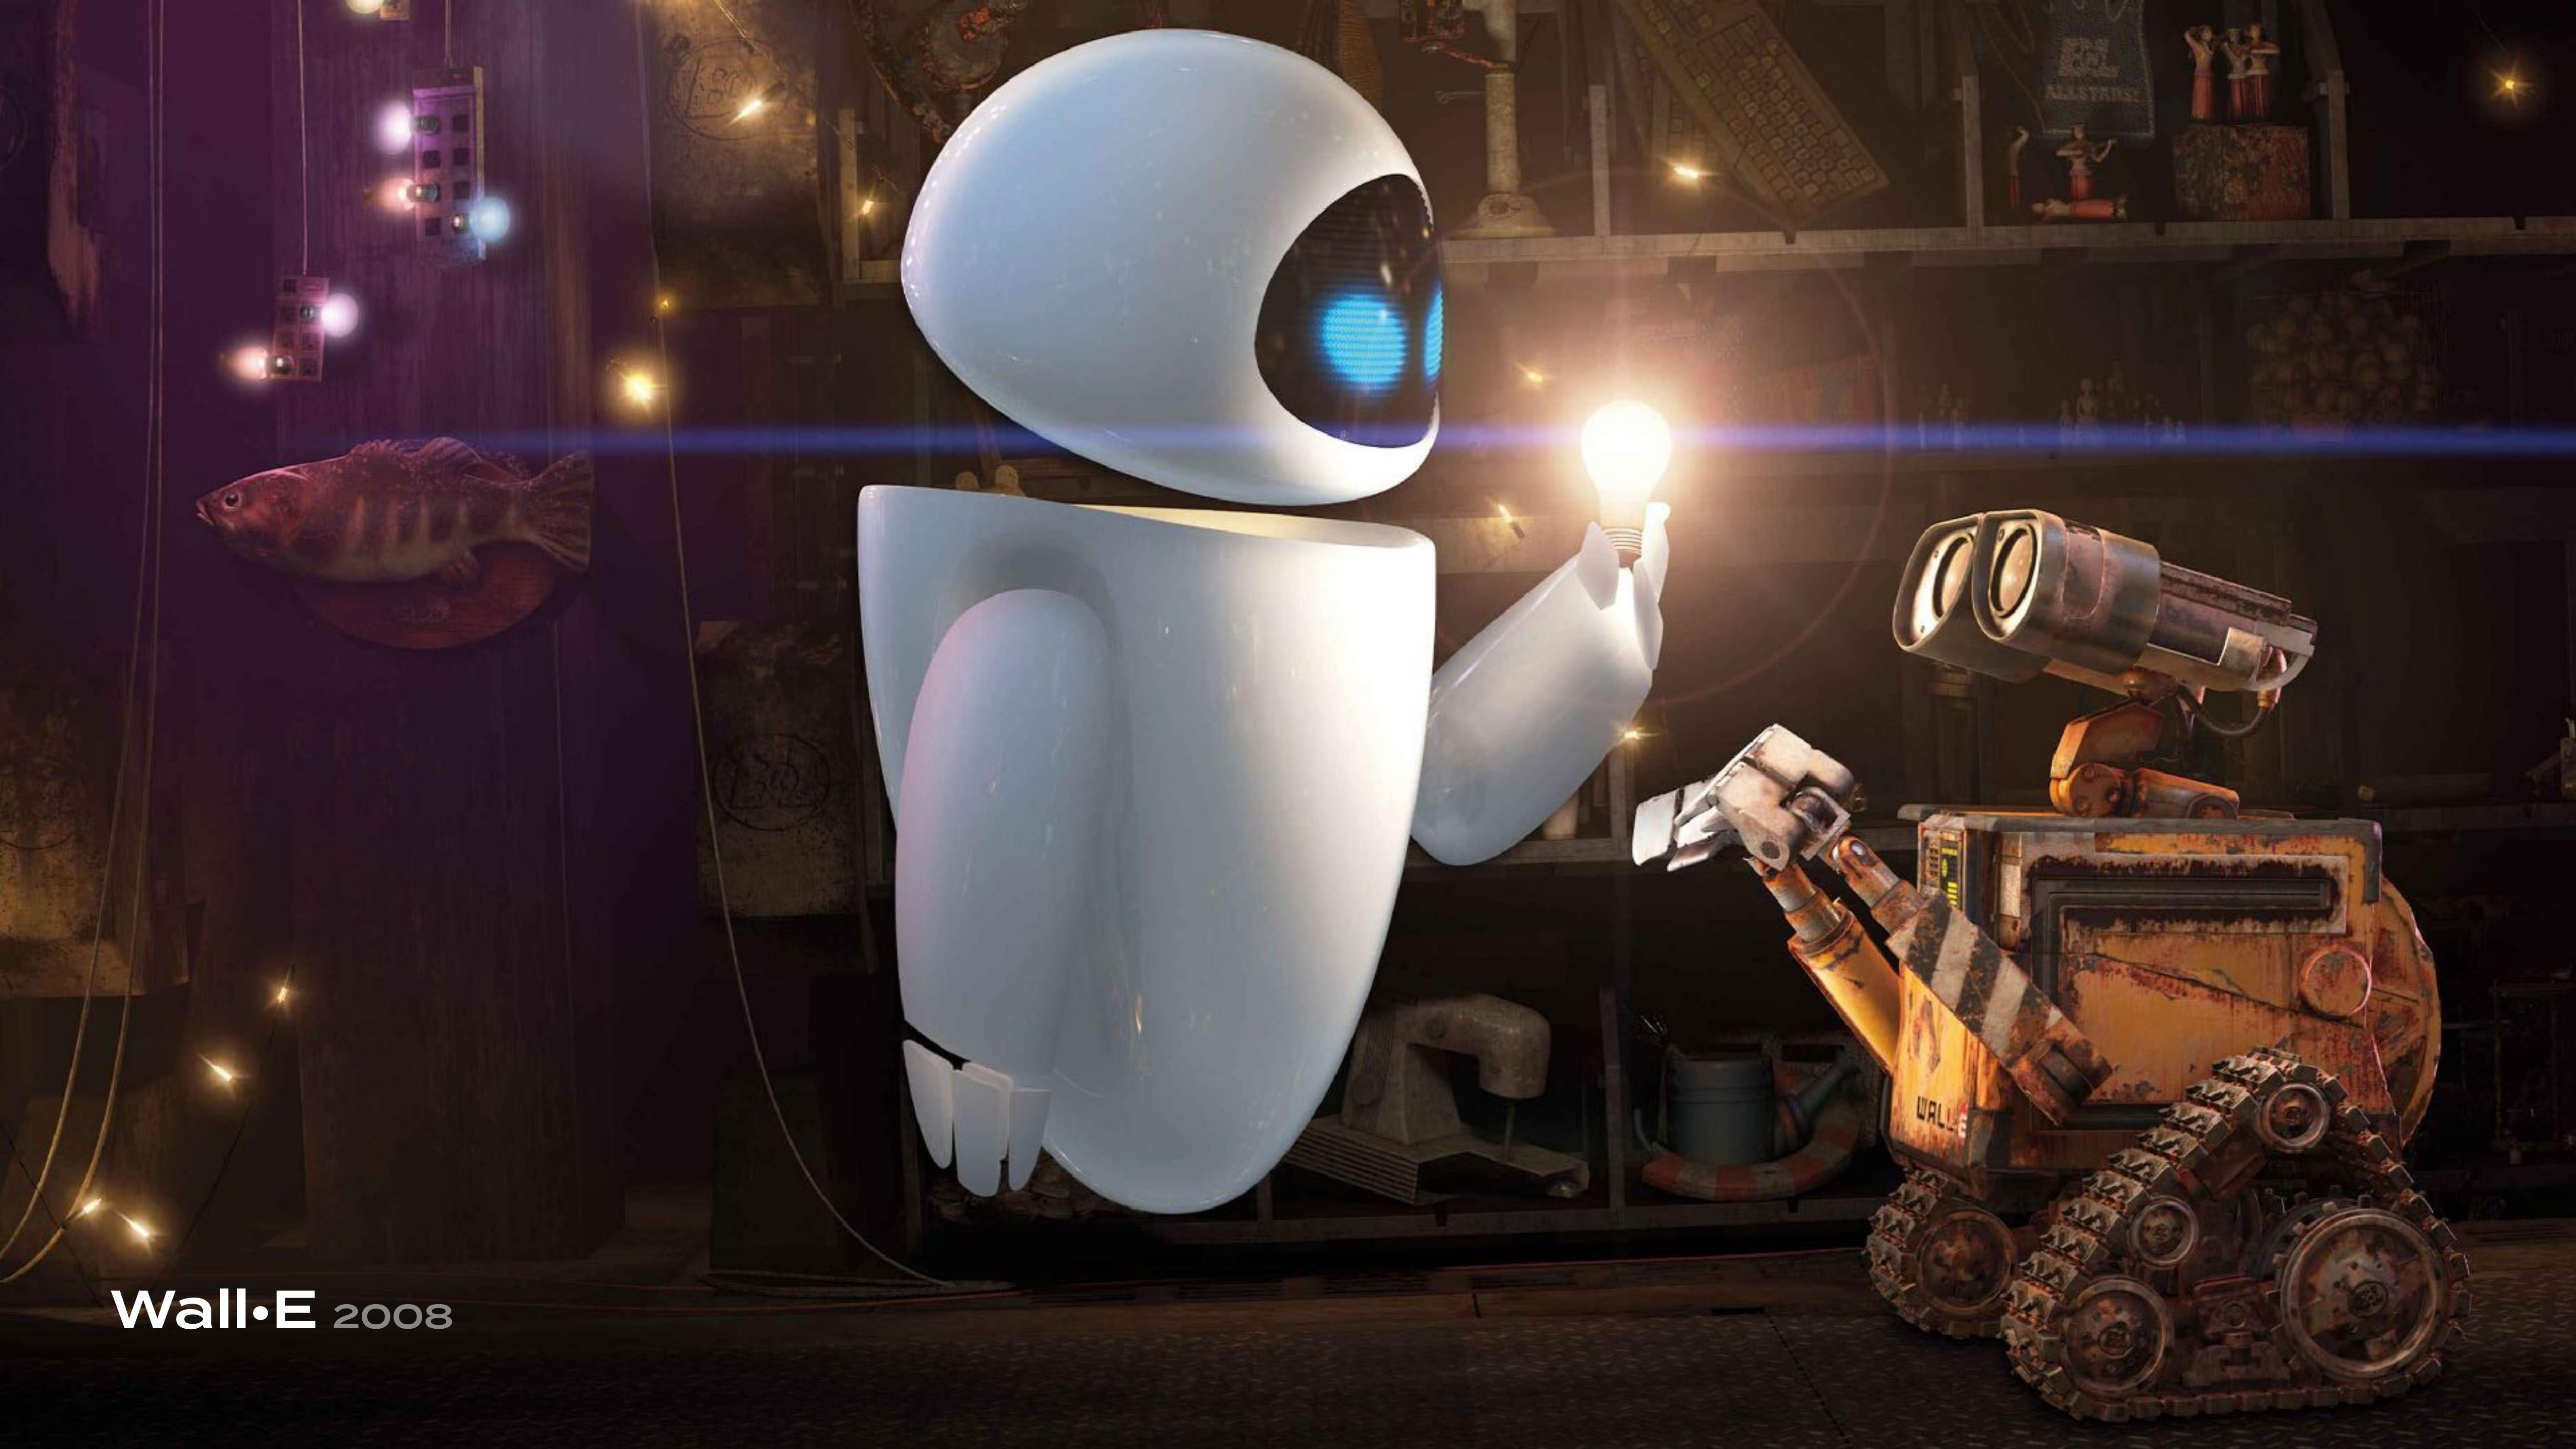

A woman with long brown hair, wearing a blue denim jacket over a dark top, stands in a dense forest. She is looking off to the side with a serious expression, holding a knife in her right hand. In the foreground, a man in a plaid shirt and jeans lies on the ground, seemingly unconscious or dead. The scene is set in a wooded area with tall trees and dappled sunlight.

Directed by James Mangold

Cinematography

or, what do the films visual mean?

Wall•E 2008

La La Land 2016

THE MYS CIRA

Wonder Woman 2017

LONDON

The Secret Life of Walter Mitty 2013

Zero Dark Thirty 2012

INGLOURIOUS BASTER

A scene from the movie Inglourious Basterds. In the foreground, a woman in a brown coat and hat looks over her shoulder. Next to her, a man in a dark suit and tie has a small rectangular sign pinned to his forehead that reads "BRUNO HOTTENTOT". On the table in front of them are several glasses of beer, a lit candle, and a military-style cap. In the background, a bar counter is visible with various bottles and a bartender. Other people are seated at tables in the dimly lit restaurant.

Directed by Quentin Tarantino

Editing

or, how does the film unfold?

Whiplash 2014

Mad Max: Fury Road 2015

THE BOURNE ULTIM

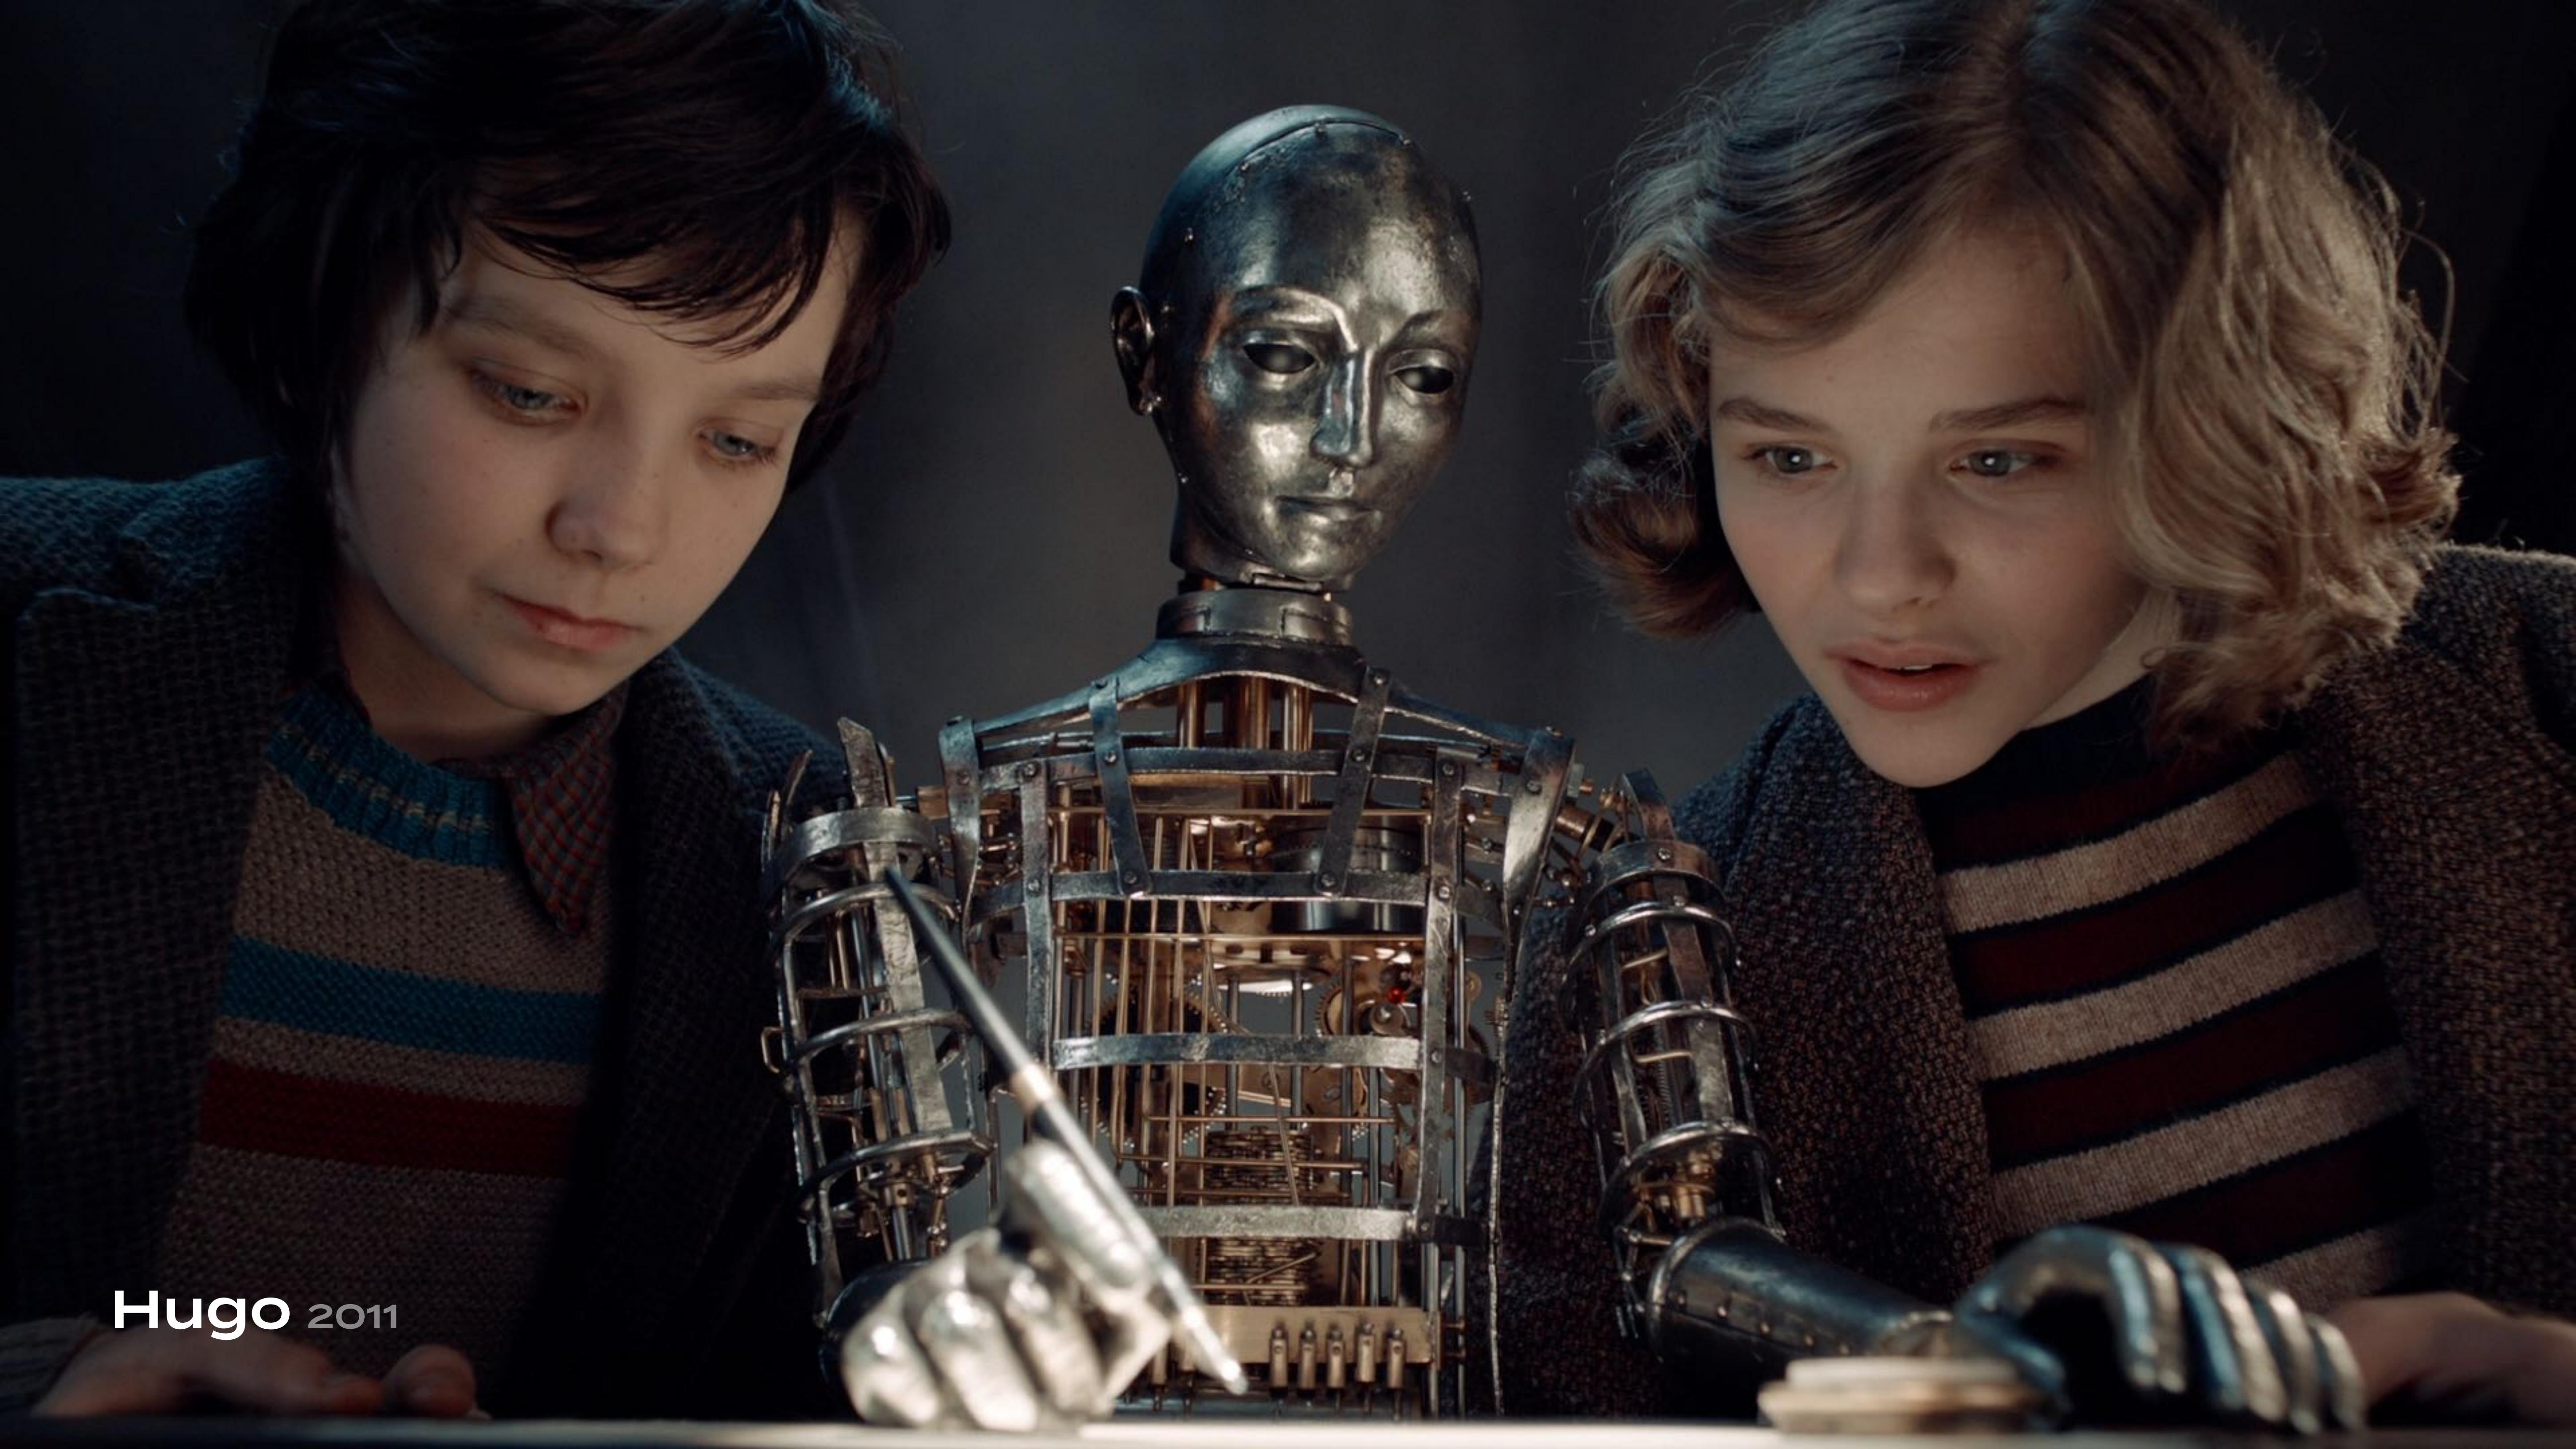

A dark, moody movie poster for "The Bourne Ultimatum". The title is displayed in large, bold, blue letters across the center. Below the title, the director's name, "Directed by Paul Greengrass", is written in white. The background is a close-up, low-key shot of Matt Damon's face, showing his intense, focused eyes and a serious expression, partially obscured by shadows.

Directed by Paul Greengrass

Directing

or, what is this movie telling us... at all?

Hugo 2011

Arrival 2016

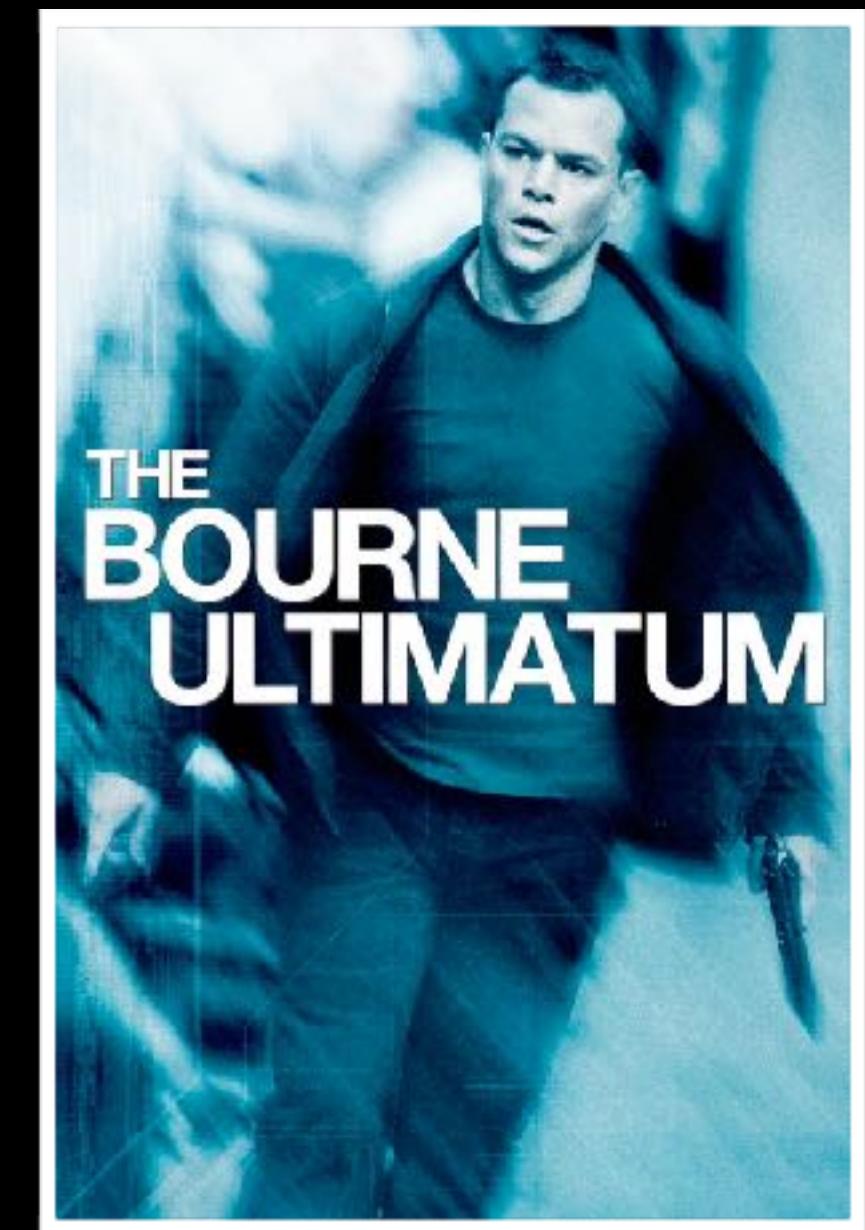

SICARIO

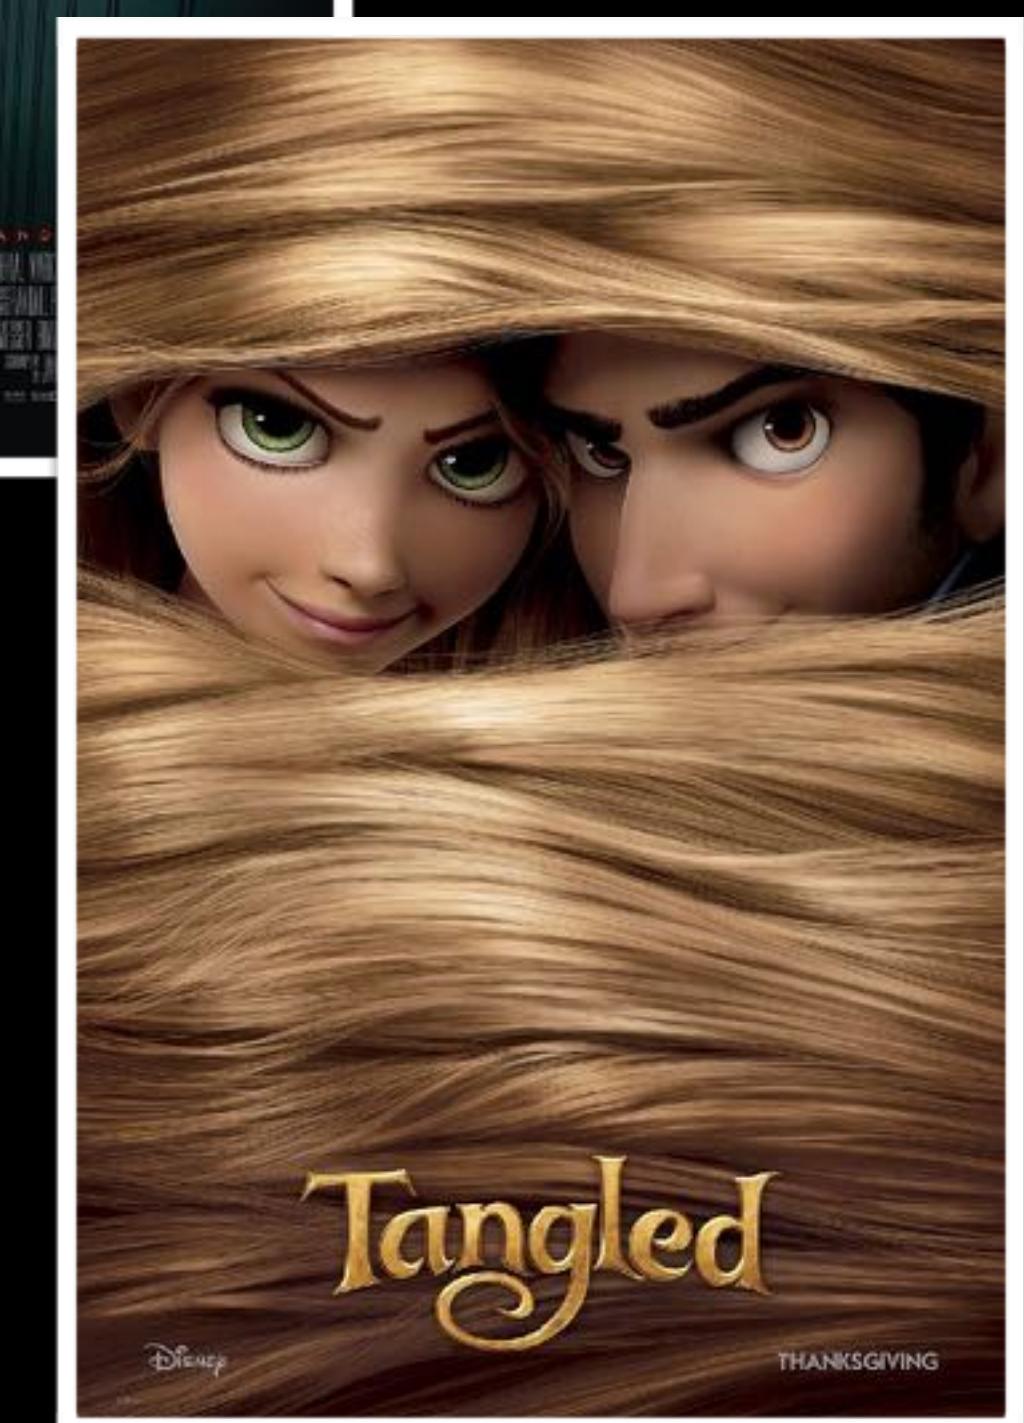

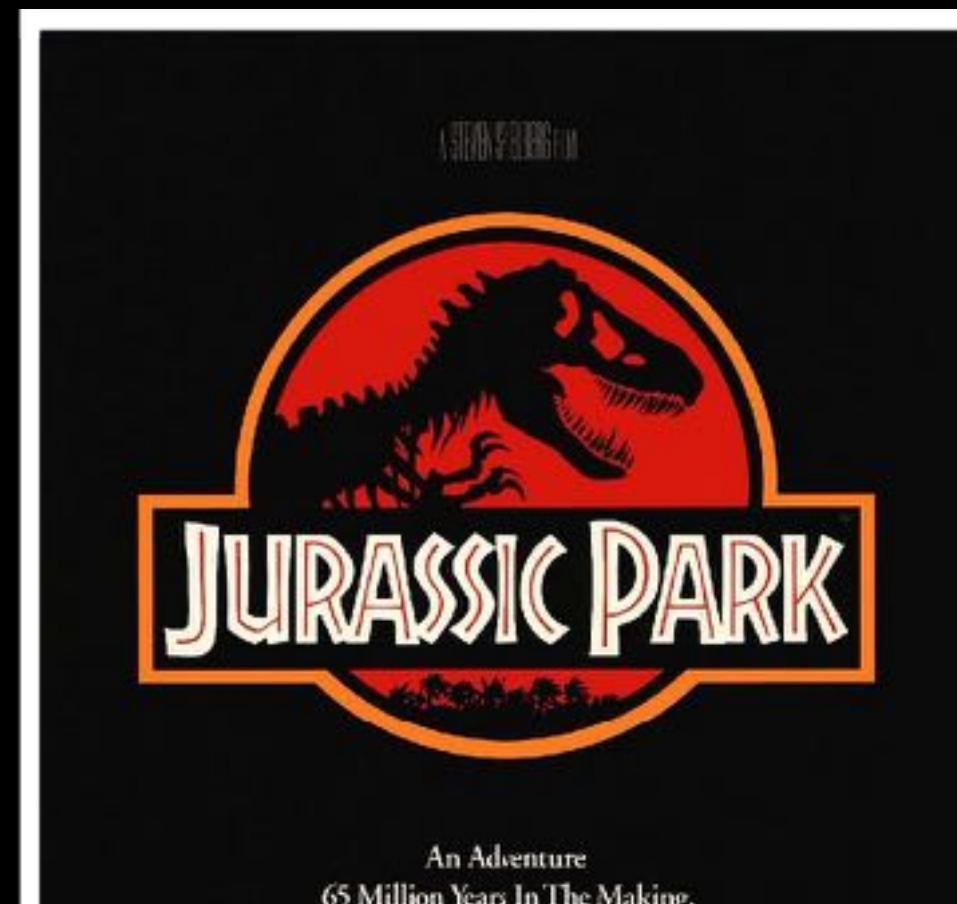

Directed by Denis Villeneuve

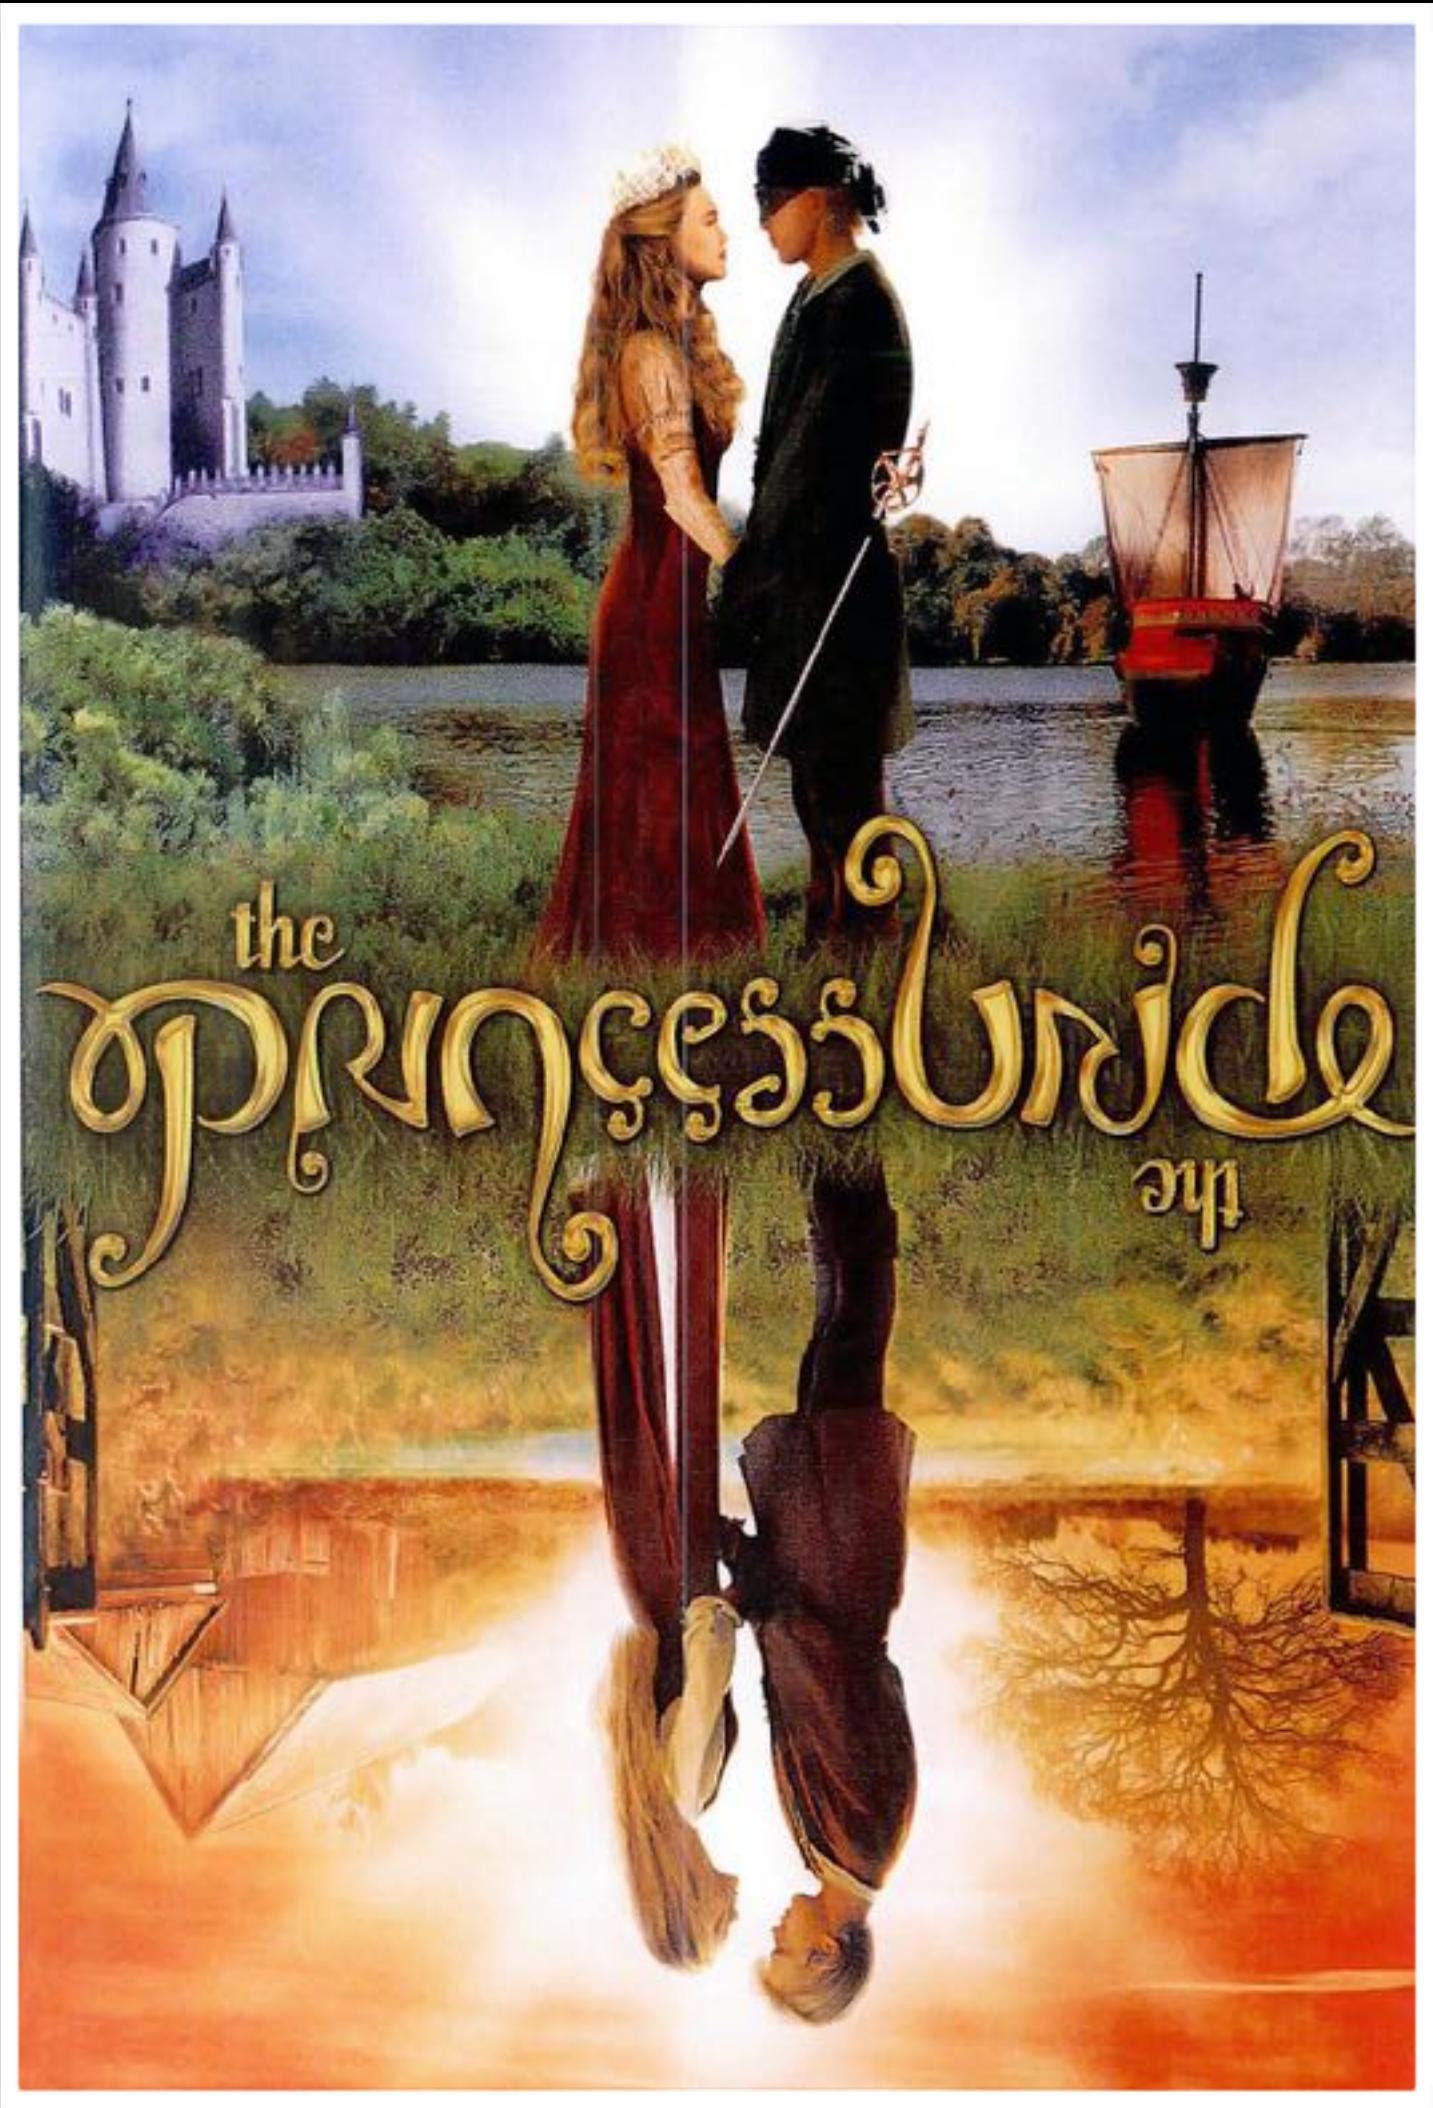

What makes a movie good... for you?

a good movie is the one you can connect with

go watch a movie

(when you get home)